ANNUAL REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY,

PRESENTED JUNE 11, 1870.

The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society have held their regular meetings each month of the past year, which have been characterized by spirited, though friendly discussion of the topics brought before them in the way of business.

The average attendance of the meetings has been about thirty-five. The Musical Committees, and the Editors of the Maile Wreath have continued, as heretofore, to provide for the entertainment of the Society, though the latter have not received the aid from the other members which they might have expected.

Fifteen new members have been admitted by ballot vote during the past year, viz: T. R Walker, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Bissell, Dr. J. M. and Mrs. Whitney, Joseph G. Tucker, Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Snowden, Mrs Arthur J. Wilkinson, Mrs. C. A. Castle, Mrs. W. H. Bailey, Mrs. William Andrews, Mrs. Robert Tinker, Miss Emma W. Peck, and Paul Van Cleve.

Article V. of the By-Laws has been amended by the following addition:—"The monthly meetings of the Society shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite, as being in sympathy with the Society and its objects."

Article VI. has been inserted among the By-Laws as follows :

ARTICLE 6TH.—RULES OF ORDER.

“ Sect. 1.—In miscellaneous business no one shall speak more than five minutes at a time, without permission from the Society.

“ Sect. 2.—In all other points of order, the presiding officer shall be guided by the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.”

The Constitution has received two amendments. Article 9th has been so amended as to allow the Annual Meeting to be held either in May or June.

Article 11 has been so changed as to allow amendments to the Constitution to be proposed by any member, instead of by the Board only, as heretofore.

Respectfully submitted,

B. F. DILLINGHAM,

Recording Secretary.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY'S REPORT.

This month of June, 1870, will henceforth be memorable in Hawaiian Annals, as the Jubilee of the Hawaiian Protestant Mission. Fifty years since, the work of our fathers commenced on these shores ; and to-night, we, their children, (with those who have joined hands with us), celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of our own Society. Many of us are no longer children. Let us realize our responsibilities, and strive to prove ourselves worthy of the parentage we honor.

In presenting this Report, the first and most important item is ever that of our missionary work. The circular letter, published in March, has already presented a very full account of the missionary intelligence of the year ; so that we will here but briefly state, that a favorable account was borne to us from all the foreign fields in which we are interested, excepting from the island of Apaiang, the field of labor of Rev. H. Bingham and wife in former years. There savage hostility still fiercely raged ; and the native missionary, Rev. Mr. Mahoe, had nearly fallen a victim to their savage violence. By very recent news from that island, we have heard that the would be murderer of Mr. Mahoe has himself fallen a victim to the rage of a fellow-savage.

On the 30th of April, Rev. H. Bingham and wife left in the American sloop of war, Jamestown, for Micronesia. As stated in the circular, this ship of war has been sent to inquire into the state of things down there, and to shew, to both islanders and unprincipled foreigners, that the missionaries are under the protection of the American Government. Mr. and Mrs. Bingham simply took a passage in her as far as the Gilbert Group ; intending to remain on some friendly island, and prosecute their work still further, if possible, and to return in the fall by some schooner which may be chartered by the Hawaiian Board to carry supplies to the missionaries there.

The loss of the Morning Star, we have great reason to hope, will be over-ruled for good ; and that a new and even a better vessel will be substituted in her place. The visits also of Messrs. Snow and Sturges to the United States will surely tend to quicken the sympathies and prayers of Christians there for Micronesia.

As mentioned in the March circular, two interesting letters had been received from Rev. S. Kauwealoha, our Marquesas missionary ; and now we have, unexpectedly, the pleasure of greeting him face to face, as he returned in the Isabella, with his adopted child, Samuel Kekela, purposing to leave him in some school at these islands.

Mr. Kauwealoha informs us, that the losses sustained by fire, have been repaired in a good measure. Three good substantial houses have been put up ; one of these is a school-house. His school now numbers twelve girls, and they could easily have increased the number to eighteen before he left ; but he did not think it wise to leave so many under the care of his wife alone ; especially as food was somewhat scarce. He speaks in cheering words of their improvement and progress. Several of them shew evidence of the work of grace in their hearts. The correspondence of the past year has not been so extensive as in some former years; but we would here note very interesting letters from Rev. Fisk P. and Mrs. Julia Maria Brewer, who are now connected with the University of North Carolina. Also from Mrs. Lucy (Bingham) Reynolds, of St. Augustine, Florida; and from Miss Mary Waterhouse, of Buckhurst, England; and a line of remembrance from Dr. T. M. Coan, of New York City. We hope the absent cousins will not forget how highly we prize letters from them.

The Kawaihau school for girls is in a prosperous condition. Notice was made in the circular of the new and convenient dining-room and kitchen, which building was then but just completed, and which was reported as having a small debt on it. Before the letters were fairly distributed, the Principal was able to announce that, from unexpected receipts of the school, the debt was canceled. It was too late to correct the statement in that letter; but we take pleasure in doing so here. The whole number of boarding and day scholars the past year, has been on an average, fifty—thirty nine boarding, and from eight to twelve day scholars. Some have left the school, and others have taken their places. The health of the girls has been very good, and the teachers have encouragement in their work. Several of the pupils have made public profession of their faith in Christ the past year.

While on the subject of Education, we note some changes since our last report. Rev. O. H. Gulick and wife resigned the Waialua Female Seminary at the commencement of 1870, and as yet the school has not been re-opened.

The Farm School, at Makawao, passed into the hands of Rev. J. P. Green soon after the last Annual Meeting. Mrs. Sarah Thurston is still connected with the school, as assistant. The Makawao Female Seminary, destroyed by fire, as stated in the last report, has not yet been rebuilt; but funds have been contributed towards the erection of another building, and the work is still contemplated, though the whole amount needed is not yet pledged.

The Koloa school for girls is still in successful operation, under the care of Mrs. Dr. Smith and daughters.

The Reform School at Palama is the subject of remark and admiration from all quarters, under the efficient management of Miss Mary Parker, assisted by her parents, and by her sister, Miss Carrie Parker.

We learn that Miss Lizzie Lyons, who was assistant at Waialua till the school was disbanded, is to be connected with the Hilo Boarding School of Mr. Lyman for the next year.

Coming now to the record of Removal and Return, we have as usual many changes to note.

In February, 1870, Rev. L. H. Gulick resigned his position as Secretary of the Hawaiian Board, and left for the United States. We have lately learned that he has been appointed District Secretary of the American Board for Southern New England. His family, as well as Mr. O. H. Gulick's, expect to leave soon for the United States.

The steamers of April and May carried out a large number of passengers; many of them connected with our Society. Father Coan and Mrs. Coan; Mrs. Reed with her three children, William, Oliver, and Clara Shipman; Fannie Wetmore; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dickson, and Katie Dickson; Miss Helen Whitney; Emma C. Smith of Kauai; Mary Paris; and Mr. Frank Judd; all these had the honor of sailing in the month of April in the first steamer connecting with the Australian line, just established. In the May steamer left Mr. and Mrs. Sturges and two daughters; Rev. E. C. Bissell and Mrs. Bissell; Mrs. Cooke, and Miss Mary Cooke; Mr. and Mrs. Atherton, and two children; Miss Atherton; Samuel and Lucy Andrews of Lahainaluna; and Samuel Wilcox of Hanalei, Kauai; Father Alexander with his daughter, Mrs. Annie Dickie, and her child, who have been on a short visit to her childhood's home, left also for California this month.

We have gladly welcomed back Rev. S. C. Damon, D.D., Mrs. Damon and Mr. Edward Damon. We shall all be the richer for the travels of Mr. Damon abroad. The following persons have returned also: Mr. C. H. Alexander; Mr. E. H. Dimond; Mrs. W. W. Hall; T. Spencer

Bond; Mr. Paul Isenberg of Lihue, Kauai, with his bride, and Dora and Paul Isenberg; and Henry Wilcox, who went over with his parents last year to California, and who was so soon and sadly orphaned.

We must not forget to mention here, that we have welcomed as guests to the Jubilee meeting, the Rev. Dr. Clark, Secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; and also Mrs. Reuben Tinker, formerly a missionary at these islands, with her son, Mr. Robert Tinker, who is on his bridal trip.

The number of marriages that have been reported to us, as among the limits of our Society, the past year, are eleven, viz: Mr. William Andrews to Miss Oscanyan, of New York City; Mr. Samuel C. Armstrong to Miss Emma Walker; Mr. Jacob Hardy to Miss Mary McLean; Mr. Paul Isenberg to Miss B. Glade; Mr. Wm. Bailey to Miss Anna Hobron; Mr. C. A. Castle to Miss E. Coleman; Mr. J. P. Cooke to Miss Emmelita Wilder; Mr. Robert Tinker to Mrs. Manney, of Rockford, Illinois; Mr. Walter C. Weedon to Miss Ida J. Sloan; Mr. Henry P. Baldwin to Miss Emily W. Alexander; and Mr. J. P. Sisson to Miss Ellen Holden.

The number of births has been twenty-five, so far as noted. Mrs. A. O. Forbes, a daughter; Mrs. Laura (Judd) Dickson, a daughter; Mrs. Sarah (Dimond) Kinney, a son; Mrs. C. (Clark) Austin, a son; Mrs. A. (Judd) Carter, a daughter; Mrs. E. (Judd) Wilder, a daughter; Mrs. S. T. Alexander, a son; Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse, Jr, a son; Mrs Julia (Dimond) Waterhouse, a daughter; Mrs. C. (Hall) Jones, a daughter; Mrs. W. Henry Dimond, a daughter; Mrs. Alvah Clark, a daughter; Mrs. M. (Andrews) Nott, a daughter; Mrs. L. (Johnson) Bindt, a son; Mrs. E. H. Rogers, a son; Mrs. George Dole, a son; Mrs. Mary (Thurston) Benfield, a son; Mrs. Mary (Anderson) Street, a daughter; Mrs. Frank Thompson, a daughter; Mrs. Lucilla (Bates) Smith, a daughter; Mrs. E. P. Church, a son; Mrs. Dr. Charles Kittredge [twins], son and daughter; Mrs. George Beckwith, a son; and Mrs. Theodore Gulick, a son.

Under deaths we note five: Mrs. Malvina Rowell

Rogers, who died at Waimea Kauai, of consumption ; Mrs. W. T. Forbes, who died of consumption in Philadelphia ; and three deaths of children, viz : Arthur H., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kinney ; Charlotte Estelle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Forbes ; and Walter B., youngest son of Rev. E. Corwin, former pastor of Fort Street Church.

In closing this Report, the Corresponding Secretary once more desires to appeal to the cousins scattered abroad, both on these islands and in foreign lands, to manifest their interest in us, by writing to us. The Circular letter which is printed and sent gratis, must be voted a failure, and the money expended on it directed into other channels, if no one is stirred up by it, either to write, or to contribute to our treasury.

Respectfully submitted,

M. A. CHAMBERLAIN,

Corresponding Secretary.

Some one has said, "The mill of God grinds slowly." It has always been manifest that the Creator does nothing in impatient haste. Of time He is often so lavish, that, in our ignorance, we wonder when the end will be ; but force He economizes to the last degree, even though economy might seem unnecessary with the Omnipotent. To us it seems utterly incomprehensible that an intelligent being, unlimited in ability or resource, and with a plan to carry out, should be content to spend unnumbered ages in doing what Almighty power could effect with a word. If God were going to make a world, why not make it a complete, orderly, and well embellished one at once? we should say; but not so the World-maker thought.

So far as now appears, absolute Omnipotence,—mere main force, so to speak,—has been employed but once in the world's construction. Existence only was given then. Beauty and adaptation to the wants of its future occupants were yet to be attained, and these must be wrought out by subordinate powers slumbering in the earth itself. Volcano and earthquake were first employed, upheaving, and overturning, and submerging, making an age of tumult. The world in its infancy felt to a greater extent these shocks and convulsions, these heavings and surgings that lift a continent from the deep, or bury islands in a watery grave. Afterward, the sunshine and rain, and vegetable and animal life brought their influences to bear, and earth's maturity feels the milder, more silent, but no less efficient workings of undemonstrative powers. The action of the dew, the showers, the wind and the frost, in time dissolve the rocks, spread out the mountains into plains, and convert the treeless desert into fertile fields suitable for the habitation of man. Water and sunshine bring riches out of the quartz and granite, and a few barrels of water hid in a crevice of a rock and congealed by frost may rend a mountain. These changes require ages, but God gives the time, rather than by one sweeping exercise of omnipotence accomplish the work in a day. These silent natural forces seem puerile in comparison with the magnitude of the work to be done, and yet they are all that unerring wisdom chooses to employ, and our experience of the result justifies their use.

Another respect in which God works slowly is this : He has placed man, with an ignorant, but enquiring mind, and a genius undeveloped, but capable of growth, in the midst of surroundings that prompt investigation. Nothing is revealed in the natural world but the mere fact of existence, and just as little in the moral world as our necessities demand. God places men upon the earth and says, "This is your work-shop. You have a brain with which to enquire and invent, and hands with which to execute. All the material for your use lies about you. Work, and you shall know; use brain and muscle, and you will solve earth's mysteries."

Here again God has patiently waited for man to slowly grind out that which seems very simple when discovered—a few of the more indispensable arts man's necessities early taught him, such as skill in working the metals and shaping weapons offensive and defensive. But for how many centuries the best energies of the race were devoted to savage wars, which correspond to the age of tumult in the world of nature ! Time was given for this till men should be prepared to learn something better.

How strange that from the time of Abel, who was the first farmer, men had been familiar with vegetable growth, and yet it was reserved for Linnæus to discover a system of universal application to plants, by which they may be described and classified. Equally strange it now seems to us that from the same early period men had observed the phenomena of the heavenly bodies, and failed to learn that the earth was not the center of the universe till fifteen centuries after the Christian era.

The steam engine and electric telegraph, brought into use late in the world's history, are also in point to illustrate our theme—that the silent agencies of common things with which we are all familiar are those to which we must look for great results.

When men have done with the battering ram and take up the hammer, when they lay down the spear and take up the quill, when they abandon the dreams of the alchemist and patiently work with a few elements that the chemist finds everywhere, then they succeed. Mankind are coming more and more to understand these general principles on which the great works of the Creator are conducted, and in proportion as human effort is guided by the same rule, in that proportion are those efforts successful. Man has always failed to secure the highest results from his labor because he has tried sheer force too much—tried to work with too large tools, while the simple elements lay entangled at his feet.

Happily this Society has its existence in a time when experience has taught the Christian world, as well as the scientific, much. Work is no longer delegated to a few. All are expected to be workers. Personal contact with, and participation in labor by every member of our Christian churches, is now the motto. The clergy are no longer the favored few to be active in good works; they are only officers to give wise direction and lead. The common material that exists everywhere in the form of lay force is the great power to be employed. The success of this Society, and its power for good, depend not so much on the number of its missionaries in the islands of the Pacific, as on the zeal of its membership in personal work in every good cause to which this Society lends its aid. The slowness with which the work progresses, or the scantiness of the returns for labor expended, need dishearten none. Indeed may it not be true that too much has been written and said about the tardiness with which the mission cause advances? Under Christ's own ministry the number of converts was small. Greater results seemed to follow the preaching of the disciples than of their Master. We have seen that it is a part of the Divine plan that the beginnings of things consume time, and that God gives that time. When the foundation is well laid amid troublous times and with many delays and discouragements, then the structure begins to rise.

The stones for the building, massive and shapeless, perhaps, may first have formed the quarry, until the lapse of years should furnish hands to hew them. Christ's disciples were not more skilled workmen than He, that their success was more marked. It was but the natural result of the observance of the Divine plan of working. The preparatory work was well done, and then common instrumentalities were laid under contribution to prosecute it. When once this mode of promoting the work of evangelization is thoroughly adopted, when every man, woman and child that enters church relationship assumes the position of a worker, when the whole host of church members and the members of missionary societies fall into line as aggressive, energetic producers, and not as consumers, then light will dawn in dark places ; then the world will move ; then the kingdom of heaven will come. The idea of working by proxy must give way to the feeling of personal responsibility to participate in the work. This is the tendency of things already. The Young Men's Christian Associations, lay preaching, both in the street and in consecrated pulpits, all look this way. There is great reason to rejoice in all these agencies that are of somewhat recent growth, and there is much reason to expect that there will be discovered still other new and efficient methods of employing every available power. We are, perhaps, too much inclined to regard all these things as belonging to the great world across the waters—therefore we welcome their transplanting here. They are worthy of all encouragement and sanction.

This Society stands as the conservatory of the good work and principles of the American Mission in these sea-girt islands. By this we do not mean that it is, or should be, a mere museum of antiquarian curiosities. It has a better mission than to be simply a cupboard on whose dusty shelves are treasured up relics of the primitive times when a few pioneers labored alone. Rather let it be ours to render more efficient and progressive those good principles that have taken a deep root among us. The Fathers and Mothers, work-worn and weary, are laying down the laborer's garb. The great and startling events of primeval times are past, but there remains the no less important work of beautifying and polishing. The dust of one diamond is used to polish another. The silent, unobserved forces of nature embellish the face of the earth after the gigantic agencies have done the constructive work. They seem to work slowly, but their Master gives them time to accomplish all His will.

Here then, chiefly, is our work ; in our midst, on every side ; work for every heart, for every hand ; work that very common people can do ; work that will not show great immediate returns ; work for which God will give abundant time.

SEC. 4.—The Corresponding Secretary shall carry on the correspondence of the Society at home and abroad, and report at its Annual Meeting.

The minutes of the Board of Managers shall be then read and acted upon. The entertainment provided for in Articles 6th and 7th, shall then be in order, after which the meeting shall be closed by singing.

The monthly meetings of the Society shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite as being in sympathy with the Society and its objects.

APPEAL FROM THE TREASURER.

The Treasurer would take advantage of the opportunity offered him by means of the Annual Report, of fully informing the Society of the emptiness of its treasury, and soliciting that wherewith he may carry out their usual appropriations for the ensuing year. The meagre pittance of $21 is the entire balance handed over to him by his predecessor, and if monthly contributions and life memberships alone are to be our support, it needs no prophet to read the future, and at the present time assert that there will be dishonored drafts before the close of the year. As such a state of affairs must result solely from the ignorance of its members or the apathy of its officers, the Treasurer in duty bound, calls upon one and all of his fellow members, from Hawaii to Kauai—from Maine to Colorado—to send him money, or something which can be turned into money—sugar, postage stamps, greenbacks, anything. All will be thankfully received, and acknowledged when he makes out his report.

L. CHAMBERLAIN,
Treasurer.
